

Press Release

September 25, 2000

Association of Independent Information Professionals Selects EDGAR Online, Inc.'s IPO Express for AIIIP Technology Award

(Oak Creek, Wisconsin) -- The Association of Independent Information Professionals (AIIIP) is pleased to announce that EDGAR Online, Inc.'s (Nasdaq: EDGR) IPO Express (www.ipo-express.com) service was awarded the Second Annual AIIIP Technology Award at the recent Online World 2000 conference in San Diego, California. The AIIIP Technology Award goes to a new product that best helps independent information professionals with their day-to-day operations in locating, analyzing and organizing information. A judging committee selected IPO Express from a field of fourteen nominees.

"The AIIIP Technology Award goes to IPO Express because of its superior usability, speed and content. IPO Express is an easy, intuitive, one-stop shop for information professionals to track the IPO marketplace. We were also impressed with the high quality and well-indexed database this free access product had to deliver. As one of our judges put it, 'the company is in tune with their audience and responsive to customer demand,'" stated Peggy Carr, AIIIP President 2000-2001.

About EDGAR Online, Inc.

EDGAR Online, Inc. is the leading business-to-business and Web-based provider of business, financial and competitive information derived from U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission data. Based in Norwalk, Connecticut, with offices in Kirkland, Washington and New York City. The company sells to the corporate market and Internet portals as well as running four destination Web sites (<http://www.edgar-online.com>, <http://www.freeedgar.com>, <http://www.ipo-express.com>, <http://www.insidertrader.com>). For more information, please visit the Company's Web site at <http://www.edgar-online.com/news>.

About AIIIP

AIIIP was founded in 1987. Membership today exceeds 700 individuals in 20 countries, and consists of owners of information-related businesses. AIIIP members offer expert online, Internet and manual research; provide document delivery, database design, library support and consulting services; and are writers and editors. Members provide services to a wide variety of clients, ranging from small companies to the Fortune 500.

CONTACT:

Peggy Carr, AIP President 2000-2001
(410) 719-8630
E-mail: pcarr@carr-research.com

#